Please remember when you are designing your advertisement that all readers of The Scottish Farmer as well as every visitor to the event will see it. We can help you to design and create an advertisement that will work for you free of charge.

As a display advertiser, you will qualify for your colour logo to be included in the list of trade stands, at only £30.

In the weeks running up to the event, The Scottish Farmer, AgriScot's official media partner will be featuring the event, encouraging its readers to attend, and giving you the opportunity to advertise/promote your company and the services you offer. To be involved in one of these features just ✓ this box and a Scottish Farmer representative will contact you.

Book your advertising space by 25th October by calling 0141 302 7777
